CLINTON TOWNSHIP, Mich. – Wayne State University medical student Courtney Moore will visit the Frederick V. Pankow Center health occupations 2 students Oct. 17 to share her expertise in heart health. Moore is founder and president of Public Health Outreach for www.HealthIsWhereTheHeartIs.com. The organization, supported by a group of medical students and young professionals, also provides presentations on cardiac health and free hypertension screenings (<http://prognosis.med.wayne.edu/article/wsu-medical-student-creates-new-organization-to-teach-healthy-heart-habits>).

Moore will present at 7:26-8:45 a.m., 9:22-10:30 a.m. and 10:33 a.m.-12:07 p.m. The Pankow Center is located at 24600 F. V. Pankow Boulevard. For information, contact Maureen Dickinson, health occupations 2 teacher, at dickinsonma@lc-ps.org or at 586-783-6570.

CLINTON TOWNSHIP, Mich. – The Frederick V. Pankow Center Performing Arts students present “The Diviners,” Oct. 21 and 22 at 7 p.m. at the John R. Armstrong Performing Arts Center.

“The drama takes place in the fictional town of Zion during the Great Depression, where a widowed farmer is raising his son Buddy, whose brain was damaged at age 4 during a near drowning, in which his mother died trying to save him. The childlike and uncontrollable Buddy has a sweet spirit but is terrified of water, though ironically he has developed an uncanny ability to find water for his drought-besieged farm community. When a disillusioned preacher, C.C. Showers, who left his practice, comes to the farm seeking employment and food, a unique bond develops between the troubled but gifted Buddy and a man who represents salvation to the beleaguered townspeople. C.C. devotes himself to helping Buddy, and his efforts precipitate a startling chain of events,” (<http://www.backstage.com/bsr/reviews-la-theatre/the-diviners-1004076667.story>).

The John Armstrong Performing Arts Center box office is open school days from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. and 30 minutes prior to the show at 24600 F. V. Pankow Boulevard. For tickets, contact 586-783-6520. For information on the play, contact Kirk Erickson at erickki@lc-ps.org.
